FUN FACTS ABOUT THE CAST & CREW

1. Did you know this production features over 300 sound cues and close to 300 props? Our tech crew and costumers have been hard at work bringing every single one to life!
2. It took 37 rehearsals for our amazing cast and crew to bring this magical show to the stage.
3. The original off-Broadway production of Puffs was created by a group of friends who hoped it would run for just three weeks at a comedy theatre. Now, it's delighting audiences all around the world!
4. Our actors had the chance to choose their own lines in certain scenes! Some lines in the script have multiple options, and whichever they pick changes the flow of the conversation. Actors have to listen to each other to ensure they say the right line back!
5. The 15-foot doors in the center of our set, along with all the doors that you see, were built by Quincy High School's Advanced Construction class!
6. Some of the props and costumes you'll see were 3D printed. Tech magic meets stage magic! Thank you so much to Warren Lybbert, and Mr. Heuker's 3D Printing class!
7. There are 38 students involved in this production, including 14 first-timers making their debut at QHS!
8. Puffs is set in the '90s, so keep your eyes peeled for all the fun throwback references sprinkled throughout the show!
9. The show was written by Matt Cox, who also performed in it. He created the story because he loved the idea of telling the "other side" of the famous wizarding world. He also apologizes in his foreword of the script for the amount of sound cues he included.
10. Our tech crew and tech leads developed the paint design for our set.
11. The costumes are a mix of hand-made, thrifted, and the actor's actual every day clothing. All of this was coordinated by our incredible costume team!
12. Owen Yeates who plays Zach Smith, gets to improv (make up) his own monologue in Act II every night. Listen closely to see if you can figure out the story he has chosen today!
13. While this show is packed with laugh-out-loud jokes, it's also full of heart. Pay close attention at the end to discover the most powerful magic in the world.

A Note From the Director

"HIIIII!" I welcome and greet you in the "Puff's" way as I am so pleased and thankful that you have chosen to spend your time with us for a while. Our story might remind you of another familiar story; however, for legal reasons I cannot actually state the name in writing! I can remember many instances in my childhood where I was reading (devouring) each of the seven books in the series that I cannot name. Rushing and lining up all dressed in costume with friends for the midnight releases of both the movies and books were quite the event. This story has always been special for me and the quote below truly conveys why…

> "You know, I think eventually we all find that little part of us. The Puff. Maybe it's there in the moments where you lose your keys. Or momentarily forget how old you are. Or maybe it's the part of you that works hard, the part that remains loyal and true despite whatever terrifying monsters are thrown your way. The part that plays fair, even when life is anything but. Maybe that's a Puff there."

I challenge us all to embrace our inner Puff. How? By making the choice to stay loyal, to stay true, and above all; to stay kind when life just isn't playing fair. See you in the common room!

"It is very easy to feel like you're only a secondary character in someone else's grand story. That does not mean, however, there isn't another story out there that's all about you. The one where you're the most important person in the world. The hero. We're all important. And we're all unimportant. We're all heroes in some way. To someone. And as for your story? I think it was pretty cool."

Your story here was pretty cool and we know it will be even cooler as you step out into the world! We know you'll do us proud. Thank you for being a part of our story!
